| Tracking Error: The Scheme, in general, will hold all the securities that constitute the Underlying Index in the same proportion as the index. Expectation is that, over a period of time, the tracking error of the Scheme relative to the performance of the Underlying Index will be relatively low. The AMC would monitor the tracking error of the Scheme on an ongoing basis and would seek to minimize tracking error to the maximum extent possible.                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                            |
| Under normal market circumstances, such tracking error is not expected to exceed by [2.00%] p.a. (based on daily rolling returns for last 12 months). However, in case of events like, Dividend issuance by constituent members, rights issuance by constituent members, and market volatility during rebalancing of the portfolio following the rebalancing of the underlying basket, etc. or in abnormal market circumstances, the tracking error may exceed the above mentioned limits.                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                            |

The investment strategy would revolve around reducing the tracking error to the least possible extent through regular rebalancing of the portfolio, taking into account the change in weights of stocks in the Index as well as the incremental collections/redemptions in the Scheme. A part of the funds may be invested in debt and money market instruments, to meet liquidity requirements. Since the Scheme is index fund, it will only invest in securities constituting the Underlying Index. However, due to corporate action in companies comprising the index, the Scheme may be allocated/allotted securities which are not part of the index. Such holdings would be rebalanced within 7 Business Days from the date of allotment / listing of such securities. As part of the Fund Management process, the Scheme may use derivative instruments such as index futures and options, or any other derivative instruments that are permissible or may be permissible in future under applicable regulations. | Investment Strategy | The Scheme will aim to provide long-term capital appreciation by investing predominantly in equity and equity related securities with focus on riding business cycles through dynamic allocation between various sectors and stocks at different stages of business cycles. Business cycles are widely understood in economics to cover the journey of periods of expansion and contraction in business and commercial activity. Business cycles vary in terms of reasons and details and timing and extent, but the ups and downs occur regularly. Each business cycle comprising of upcycle and downcycle typically has 4 phases 1) expansion – rising growth 2) peak – growth stabilizes at a high level 3) contraction – declining/slowing growth 4) slump – phase of weak/no growth. While doing portfolio construction, the Scheme would follow a blend of top-down approach to identify stages of business cycles, sector opportunities and bottom-up approach to identify strong companies within those sectors. The assessment of the stage and likely trajectory of business cycles will be done by the top-down macro trends observed in the sector/business/ economy/macro indicators. The fund manager will look at various business specific indicators like the outlook on growth, competition in the market place, pricing power, bargaining power of buyers and suppliers, threat of substitutes in products, consumer sentiment, capacity utilization, capex plans and also macro indicators like domestic economic growth, changes in government regulations, business confidence index, inflation trends, interest rates, geopolitical issues, global growth for exports potential, other external factors. The bottom-up stock selection investment framework shall follow a rigorous in-house process based on fundamental analysis and research. The fund manager will favour companies that are most attractively valued relative to their quality of management, business model &amp; financial metrics. When assessing a company, the fund manager will focus on understanding how each of these factors will change over time. The bottom-up research process will also aid in forming views on the likely trajectory of business cycles. Thus, the Scheme will aim to benefit from the improvement/acceleration in earnings as the business enters a phase of upcycle (expansion-peak), by identifying stocks which are best positioned to capture that business upcycle keeping the valuations in perspective. While sector allocation will largely consider the stages of the business cycles, the Scheme will aim at being reasonably diversified across various sectors/sub sectors and across market capitalization (combination of large, mid &amp; small caps). The Scheme shall follow an active approach in portfolio weightages and will also limit exposure/stay away from sectors and companies approaching/undergoing a business downcycle. |                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                    |

Expectation is that, over a period of time, the tracking error of the Scheme relative to the performance of the Underlying Index will be relatively low. The AMC would monitor the tracking error of the Scheme on an ongoing basis and would seek to minimize tracking error to the maximum extent possible.Under normal market circumstances, such tracking error is not expected to exceed by [2.00%] p.a. (based on daily rolling returns for last 12 months). However, in case of events like, Dividend issuance by constituent members, rights issuance by constituent members, and market volatility during rebalancing of the portfolio following the rebalancing of the underlying basket, etc. or in abnormal market circumstances, the tracking error may exceed the above mentioned limits.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                      |  |  |                                                            |        |                   |                     |                                                                                                                                                                       |                         |       |       |                          |       |       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |  |  |                                     |  |  |                                                            |        |                   |                     |                                                                                                                                                                      |                         |       |       |                          |       |       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |  |  |

The investment strategy would revolve around reducing the tracking error to the least possible extent through regular rebalancing of the portfolio, taking into account the change in weights of stocks in the Index as well as the incremental collections/redemptions in the Scheme. A part of the funds may be invested in debt and money market instruments, to meet liquidity requirements.Since the Scheme is index fund, it will only invest in securities constituting the Underlying Index. However, due to corporate action in companies comprising the index, the Scheme may be allocated/allotted securities which are not part of the index. Such holdings would be rebalanced within 7 Calendar Days from the date of allotment / listing of such securities.As part of the Fund Management process, the Scheme may use derivative instruments such as index futures and options, or any other derivative instruments that are permissible or may be permissible in future under applicable regulations. However, trading in derivatives by the Scheme shall be for restricted purposes as permitted by the Regulations.For detailed derivative strategies, please refer to SAI.Subject to the Regulations and the applicable guidelines, the Scheme may engage in Stock Lending activities. The Scheme may also invest in the debt schemes of Mutual Funds in terms of the prevailing SEBI (MF) Regulations.Though every endeavor will be made to achieve the objective of the Scheme, the AMC/Sponsor/ Trustee do not guarantee that the investment objective of the Scheme will be achieved. | The AMC would monitor the tracking error of the Scheme on an ongoing basis and would seek to minimize tracking error to the maximum extent possible. Under normal market circumstances, such tracking error is not expected to exceed by 2.00% p.a. (based on daily rolling returns for last 12 months). However, in case of events like, Dividend issuance by constituent members, rights issuance by constituent members, and market volatility during rebalancing of the portfolio following the rebalancing of the Underlying Basket, etc. or in abnormal market circumstances, the tracking error may exceed the above mentioned limits. |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                               |

A part of the funds may be invested in debt and money market instruments, to meet liquidity requirements. |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                               |
